Dear Ralph,

I am really tempted to spend New Year's week-end in Victoria. Yes! My mind is being firmly made up, and I'll be seeing you then. I'll leave on the Saturday morning boat, December 31, which I believe arrives in Victoria about 1.30 or 2 p.m. Then I can spend Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Victoria, leaving Monday midnight.

I can hardly wait, I assure you. I just feel as if I am going to enjoy it very much.

Did anyone ever tell you that you are quite priceless? When I see you I must tell you that. I know many people who are not nearly as nice as you are.

In the past few months my work has been very difficult, but at last I have an assistant, for which I am truly thankful. In any case, I have earned a brief vacation for myself, and look forward to spending it in Victoria.

When is the Installation of Officers taking place? Who are the Installing Officers. Tell me all the details.

Ralph dear, I want to thank you for inviting me to stay at your home. Will you mind very much if I register at the Hotel? I think it will be more convenient - don't you? I do not want to be a bother to your mother, etc.

I'd love to see you presiding at Lodge. You would do it with the dignity befitting the occasion. But unless you stage a Lodge meeting during the New Year's week-end, for my special benefit, I suppose I'll just have to imagine how you do it.

I heard Lewis Browne lecture last night. He is splendid. I have now become a "Browne" fan.

Ralph dear, I hope you will be satisfied with the promptness of this letter. It just couldn't be any prompter. ( don't think that is the right word, but you know what I mean)

Must close now. With kindest thoughts of you,
as ever,

Anna
