I would like to encourage each of you to participate in our most recent launch of "Feasting for Funds". Thank you to the Ways and Means Committee and specifically to Susan Kroft, Andrea Zimmerman, Reesa Devlin, John Anthony and Barry Rivelis for their energy and effort in putting these events together. Many thanks to the hosts as well, of course! Last month's shofar included a separate booklet outlining the various venues. They are all different and unique. And there will be others in the future as well. This is a key "social event" and "fundraiser" for the Temple, so we encourage you to participate. Visit our website www.templesholom.ca for the latest on this and other events.

Your Temple Board has been very active over the past several months on many initiatives that affect all of us in some way. As we continue to serve the growing needs of our diverse membership we must ensure we listen to what our members want. Feedback from all of you is key. One of the most important initiatives of our Strategic Planning Committee is to consult with members to ensure their current and future needs are being met. To that end, we have recently initiated two Temple feedback groups, one group aged 25 to 45 years and the other aged 46 to 65 years. Mostly couples, these hand picked adults, very representative of their age groups, have already met independently several times to discuss various aspects of our Temple, our community, and how we can ensure we are meeting the needs of both. We will report on findings and feedback over time.

The Rabbinical assistant search has been ongoing for sometime. Many candidates have been interviewed, both within and outside of North America. We hope to be able to announce a successful candidate in the coming weeks. Arthur Guttman, our cantorial soloist, continues to make a good recovery after his recent surgery. He will continue his key role with our Temple. Arthur has been at the Rabbi's side on the Bima for many years, and over the coming months he will be sharing more of his Bima duties, as we are fortunate to have available others who have cantorial skills.

Our administrative offices will undergo some long overdue structural changes, to make more room in the office including an additional office for an assistant Rabbi.

We have recently updated our web site, and have also implemented a weekly email message, showing events for the week to all our members. If you are not getting these messages, please call the office at 604-266-7190 or email rochelle@templesholom.ca to be added to the email list.

Discovering Jewish Ukraine on the Klezmer Heritage Cruise

April 22 at Temple Sholom at 7:30 p.m.

Vancouverites Avi Dolgin and Lorne Mallin are bringing stories, video, music and pictures to share about "Discovering Jewish Ukraine on the Klezmer Heritage Cruise"

Avi and Lorne will focus on Jewish themes of the journey down the Dneiper River - visits to ancestral towns, the fabulous music and the revival of Judaism. That revival includes the small but growing Reform movement, which you will have a chance to support with your admission by donation.

There are pictures from their adventure at www.flickr.com/photos/klezmercruise/.

Thank you to everyone who purchased a new Siddur, the Mishkan T'filah, we have met our expectations and cannot sell any more Siddurs at this time. We have been told that the new Siddurs will be off the presses in May.

Men's Seder

Tuesday April 15 at 7:00 pm

A few months ago I came across a new and innovative program developed by the MRJ (Men of Reform Judaism)--a Men's Seder. For many years, our Sisterhood have put on a wonderful Women's Seder, directed at the women of our congregation and dealing with issues that primarily affect them. (The Women's Seder will again take place this year on Sunday, April 6 @ 2:30 pm at the synagogue.)

This year we will be putting on a "Men's Seder" on Tuesday April 15th at 7:00 pm at the shul. What is a Men's Seder? It is an opportunity for men of ALL ages (21 years and up) to get together, to delve into the story of Pesach through the eyes of men of the 21st Century. We will use a specially created Haggadah to explore contemporary men's issues such as: family, income, health, communication (or lack thereof), etc.

This will be an opportunity for us to gather and to share together the issues and challenges that face Jewish men today. It will be wonderful to see fathers and sons coming to this event together.

Join me on Tuesday evening April 15th. And now for the difficult part--PLEASE, PLEASE--R.S.V.P. (before April 10th) We need to know how many are coming.

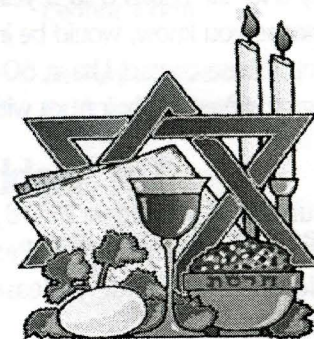

Chag Sameach

Rabbi Philip Bregman

The Temple Sholom Endowment Fund

Endowment Fund Profile

In the summer of 2007, an Endowment Allocation was made towards the "Naomi Project". Funds were used to offset the cost of tuition and airfare for Mary Cohene in order that she might attend the "Outreach Fellows Program for Conversion Certification at HUC-JIR in Cincinnati.

For the past six months, the Naomi Project has been offered to the Jewish Information Class at Temple Sholom.

Mary Cohene and a group of dedicated mentors have been providing emotional and psychological support and resource material to those who are considering conversion, or to those who want to learn more about Judaism. Like Naomi, they figuratively invite newcomers to experience Jewish life and, only when they so choose, to share their journey. Mary and her mentors are Jewish role models, who act as facilitators to point out the guideposts along the way. Together, the mentors and class participants have attended Friday night pot luck dinners, Shabbat services, a "Jewish by Choice" panel discussion, and Shabbat meals in mentors' homes. They communicate by email, phone and also occasionally meet for coffee.

A grant from the Endowment Fund allowed Mary Cohene to participate in the 5 day program in Cincinnati in order to become a certified Schindler Fellow in Conversion. Mary has also used Endowment funds to provide resources for the class; such as books and food (Jewish, of course!) The Naomi Project will be an ongoing enrichment group at Temple Sholom that will support and welcome those interested in participating.

EXCITING FUNDING OPPORTUNITY

"In helping others, we shall help ourselves, for whatever we give out completes the circle and comes back to us."

We are pleased to announce the 2008 allocation of funds generated by the Temple Sholom Endowment Fund.

Please submit your proposals for the funding of possible projects which support the principles guiding the formation of the Temple Sholom Endowment Fund.

In awarding grants, consideration will be based on:

- affiliation with Temple Sholom;
- the enhancement and/or expansion of Temple Sholom educational opportunities;
- the provision of assistance or support to the extended membership of our synagogue families
- the establishment and nurturing of the connections to Jews both locally and abroad.

Please include the following information in your proposal:

- a clear statement of who will benefit from the project;
- a concise description of the activities to be undertaken;
- a starting and completion date of the project;
- total funds requested;
- how follow-up will be reported on.

Grants will be limited to $2000 each (or more if merited); no more than 5 grants will be awarded at this time.

The deadline for submitting applications is July 01, 2008. Please address applications to the Temple Sholom Endowment Committee, c/o the Temple Sholom office.

The Endowment Committee will review and consider all submissions; however not all proposals will be accepted and awarded funds. Awards will be verified by August 15th, 2008.

Research Shows that Kids Need Spirituality

By Lena Sin (Canwest News Service)

Reprinted from an article published in the Vancouver Province, February 25, 2008

Four years ago, two American psychologists put forth a simple question: What do you want for your children? More than 10,000 adults in 48 countries across six continents responded overwhelmingly with one answer: For their children to be happy.

While hardly a surprising answer, what was surprising was that academics knew virtually nothing about what makes children happy.

Kelowna, B.C. psychologist Mark Holder decided to take up the challenge and a study by the University of B.C. professor is showing some surprising results...Spirituality - defined as an inner belief system - accounted for eight to 17 per cent of the average child's sense of happiness, the study showed. By contrast, money, the marital status of parents and the child's gender didn't even register one per cent.

"It's a whopping big effect," said Holder, especially since spirituality only accounts for four to five per cent of an adult's happiness.

The study was carried out in Kelowna, where Holder and graduate student Judi Wallace tested 315 children age 9 to 12 in public and private schools. The children were asked to rate the importance of such statements as: "I believe a higher power watches over me."

Parents and teachers were also asked to describe each child's happiness.

"What we found out with kids is they know how wealthy they are. They are well aware of how rich their parents are, but it contributes to less than one per cent of children's happiness," Holder said.

Spirituality could be playing a much larger role for several reasons: It produces a sense of hope and meaning and can provide a social network. Spirituality is not the same thing as religion, Holder and Wallace were clear to point out.

While religion is usually affiliated with an institution, spirituality is related to an inner set of beliefs that guides you in life.

"For me, spirituality (in children) is simply a way in which they're more grounded internally and less dependent on external factors for their well-being," said Victor Chan, a friend of the Dalai Lama and founding director of the Vancouver-based Dalai Lama Centre for Peace and Education.

Be An Angel...

Consider joining the Chevrah Tefilah. We are a group of Temple members who are connected to each other by invisible threads of love and compassion. Each day, we take a moment at home to recite a brief prayer of health and well-being on behalf of someone else in our community. Through this simple act, we can help to ease the burdens of those around us and contribute to tikkun olam, a healing of the world. If you are interested in participating in this special program, please contact Cathy Bregman by email (pbregman@shaw.ca)

Dinner and Discussion Evening on Monday, March 31st,
from 6:30 to 8:45pm

My Body is Not Your Playground

A sexual boundaries workshop for teens and a workshop on navigating adolescence for parents

On Monday, March 31st 2008 from 6:30 to 8:45pm at Temple Sholom (7190 Oak St.), TAG, Jewish community supplementary high school is proud to present an important evening for teenagers and their parents. This Dinner and Discussion evening will feature workshops with trained facilitators from SAFETEEN, a well-respected and dynamic local program that deals with serious social issues facing teens today. It is no secret that one-third of young adults report experiencing physical, verbal and/or emotional abuse in their romantic relationships, and Jewish relationships are no exception. The goal of the evening is to show teenagers how to take responsibility for their behaviour and establish values to grow into healthy adults, and to help parents navigate adolescence and learn concrete skills to pass on to their children.

THE TAG EVENING WILL CONSIST OF 3 SEPARATE WORKSHOPS:

My Body is Not Your Playground: A Sexual Boundaries Workshop for Teen Girls - Help girls identify and nurture core strength and become sensitive to their own boundaries, as well as the boundaries of others. They will learn to make choices from an informed and empowered place.

The Power of Choice: A Sexual Boundaries Workshop for Teen Boys - Examine male issues of sexuality, power, peer pressure and personal choices.

Navigating Adolescence: A Workshop for Parents of Teens

Sex, drugs, violence, bullying, drinking and driving and the internet are all important issues that will be discussed in this workshop focusing on the acquisition of concrete skills that parents can pass on to their teens. A Kosher dinner will be served. Free for TAG students, by donation for everyone else. For more information and to RSVP please contact Lisa Pozin at 604266-7190 or tagbc@telus.net This program is generously sponsored by Jewish Women International-BC

Matzah Factory visit - April 6th

Students in Kindergarten to Grade 3 will be visiting the Matzah factory at the Lubavitch centre at 41st and Oak on Sunday April 6th from 11 till Noon. This tour takes them through the matzah making process from stalks of wheat to the finished product. Parent drivers will be needed.

Model Seder April 13th

As usual students will gain an understanding of the order and meaning of the Seder through participation in this highly interactive Seder. Parents are welcome to observe and get ideas for their own Seders. Parent helpers are also needed. Classes start at 9:30 as usual, with the Seder beginning at 10:45 am.

Yom Hashoah

Will be commemorated by the older grades on April 27th. The Men's club will again be providing yellow yahrtzeit candles for each student to light.

Tuesday Evening Electives

After Pesach, the remaining Tuesday afternoon classes will be chosen by the students from art, Yiddish and games. The topic to be addressed by all the electives is "Liife in the Shtetls of Eastern Europe". This unit will be followed by the screening in several parts of Fiddler on the Roof. All the classes will include a short Hebrew lesson.

Thank you

To the grade 3 students and their families for providing such excellent hamantashen for recess snack for Purim. To all the families who brought in donations of clothes, baking, towels, baby items and more for our Tzedakah fair. The e-yachad Federation's newsletter posted a link to our Tzedakah fair power point presentation.

To Alex Lorant, Lloyd Lyall and Morris Berger-Poll for representing our school at the Public Speaking contest - they are all sensational speakers!

Mitzvah projects of the month:

- ✓ Both Hannah Bauman & Mac Menkes are raising awareness of the amazing Birthday Angels project in Israel. This project seeks to find sponsors to allow 10,000 children who have never before celebrated a birthday to do so. Sponsorship is $36 per party and every sponsor receives a photo of the child at his/her party and a thank you letter.
- ✓ Michael Rozen is raising money to plant trees in Israel through the JNF.
- ✓ Alex & Rachel Toope have raised over $1000 with their Pennies for Peace project.
