Dear Harry:-

I have been asked by the other members of the firm to acquaint you with the decision that was reached this morning regarding the matter that you brought up for consideration Monday night.

It was the unanimous opinion of all the members that as you were not put to any extra expense on account of having to bring your holidays to a close ~~XX~~ no cash grant should be made. However, it was also the opinion of all that as you had intended to take extra holidays that these holidays should be made up to you. Therefore if you are planning to take holidays at Xmas if you wish to make up this extra time at that time you are free to do so.

I believe everybody regrets that this matter had to be considered and we trust that there will be no hard feelings over the decision as rendered by the members after giving the matter a great deal of thought and weighing everything in the balance.

Sincerely,
